YAD has done the above-mentioned activities with the project stockholders. The different department's representative participated in session. It's shared about YAD back ground and project funded by Amplify change and shared about the provincial scenario and maternal health services Baluchistan province has ineffectual management, wicked governance, unaware masses, and dynastic and lord-type political culture and backwardness. The hard-wearing tribal system, followed by culture customs and lack of sense of responsibilities the major portion of population is illiterate, poor, backward, and absence of research, actual data, lack of determined laws polices and its implementation made situation inferior. The people of province are deprived of the basic right of access to health services and they are begging for the most necessary amenities to access to better health facilities. The youth, girls and women face a number of hindrances accessing sexual and reproductive health services in province. The maternal mortality rate is high in Baluchistan as compare to rest of provinces. According to Pakistan Maternal Mortality Survey, with 157 deaths per 100,000 live births, Punjab has the lowest MMR; followed by KP at 165; then Sindh at 224; while Baluchistan has the highest, at 298 maternal deaths per 100,000 live births. The maternal health services become major issue in province. Most of the cases are not reported of the province and the actual rate of MMR in province is higher than the mentioned above. The government and its departments deal all in traditional way in age of digitalized era. Young individuals may need information on access to quality sexual reproductive health to contemporary contraception, HIV and sexually transmitted infection, testing and treatment, safe abortion, counselling, gender-based violence and injurious practices counselling. The youth, girls' women have less said in decision making process and their opinions are not respected. These hindrances may unavailability and accessibility to the quality health services provided that may address the need of married couples. To protect the women and girls' rights ensuring the safety, healthy community, dignity and honor some impressive initiatives are needed. The government need to take appropriate steps to make easy access to quality health services and must respect the young person's secrecy and pri Liaison and coordination meeting was well conveyed by the project staff and participant were desperate to give in puts in this discussion.
